Hiro Dining Chair, Stainless Steel - Desert

Product Description

Named after the Japanese word for "generous," the Hiro Dining Chair embodies understated elegance and inviting comfort. Its sculptural three-legged design is inspired by minimalist art, transforming the chair into a striking spatial object with harmonious proportions and a pure, considered silhouette.

A cylindrical backrest doubles as a discreet handle, encouraging fluid movement and adaptability in everyday settings. The composition celebrates clarity of design meeting the warmth of craftsmanship -- in a single, generous gesture.

The high polished stainless-steel frame captures and reflects light with sharp precision, its mirror-like surface bringing a crisp architectural presence and lasting resistance to wear. Paired with this brilliance is Desert wool velvet - a sandy brown with gentle golden and beige undertones - whose dense pile shifts subtly with the light, adding tactile richness and quiet warmth. Together, polished steel and Desert velvet create an elegant harmony of shine and softness, like polished metal meeting wind-shaped dunes beneath an open sky.

Perfect around a dining table, at the head of a meeting space, or as a standalone accent in an entryway, the Hiro Dining Chair brings sculptural presence and quiet luxury to any setting.

Designer Description

Tommy Hyldahl and Kristian Sofus Hansen intertwine their distinct sensibilities to create designs where storytelling, materiality, and timeless form meet in quiet harmony.

With a background in fashion, Tommy brings an intuitive eye for trends, colors, and textures. His process is one of layering histories, blending details and references from past design periods and reimagining them into something fresh and contemporary. Each collection unfolds as a narrative, evolving from concept to creation, with every element contributing to a greater story.

Kristian, who has lived and studied in Japan, seeks to unite Japanese aesthetics with Danish design, creating a characteristic twist on simplicity itself. His work is defined by the search for subtle, original details that elevate each piece with a unique signature. Drawing inspiration from art and sculpture, his creative process unfolds in new and exciting ways, always striving to craft designs that are both functional and timeless.

Together, they craft design that transcends time, poetic yet practical, expressive yet enduring.

Family Description Text

The Hiro Collection is named after the Japanese word for "generous," and that spirit of generosity is expressed in every detail. Inspired by minimalist art and the quiet elegance of Japanese design, it transforms pure geometry into something sculptural, tactile, and welcoming.

Repeating cylindrical shapes create a shared rhythm across the pieces. The bench sits low and grounded, supported by two legs, each formed from four upholstered cylinders gathered together like soft architectural columns. The dining chair contrasts this softness with three cylindrical metal legs, giving it a poised and deliberate stance, while rounded upholstered volumes offer comfort with restraint.

Together, the pieces shape a quiet dialogue between structure and softness, weight and lightness. The Hiro Collection does not seek attention. It settles into a space, bringing warmth, stillness, and a sense of generosity through thoughtful presence.

Color Description

This pairing contrasts the mirrored brilliance of high polished stainless steel with the soft, luminous warmth of Desert velvet. The steel's reflective silver surface captures light with sharp precision, while the velvet's sandy brown tone with gentle golden and beige undertones brings warmth and quiet depth. Its velvety texture softens the composition, catching light subtly and adding a sense of tactile richness.

Together they create a balance between sleek modern clarity and the calm warmth of sunlit earth, like polished metal meeting wind shaped dunes beneath an open sky. The result is an elegant harmony of shine and softness, refined yet naturally grounded.

Maintenance Guide Description

This piece combines the mirror like brilliance of high polished stainless steel with the soft, luxurious texture of velvet. Each material requires thoughtful care to preserve its distinctive character.

For high polished stainless steel, clean with a soft, damp cloth and mild soap when necessary, then dry immediately to avoid streaks or water marks. Occasional polishing with a clean, dry cloth will help maintain its reflective finish. Avoid abrasive pads, rough sponges, or aggressive cleaners, as these can scratch the surface and reduce its clarity. Harsh chemicals such as bleach or ammonia should never be used.

For velvet upholstery, gently vacuum the surface with a soft brush attachment on a low setting to remove dust and maintain the fabric's softness. If spills occur, blot immediately with a clean, dry cloth. Avoid rubbing, as this can push liquid deeper into the fibers and disturb the pile. Minor marks can be treated with a slightly damp cloth, and the velvet can be lightly brushed in the direction of the nap to restore its smooth texture.

Keep velvet away from prolonged direct sunlight to prevent fading, and avoid excessive moisture. Pressure marks may be softened by lightly steaming the fabric from a distance and gently brushing the fibers back into place once dry. For deeper cleaning or persistent stains, professional upholstery cleaning is recommended.

With attentive care, the combination of stainless steel's crisp brilliance and velvet's tactile depth will retain its elegance, comfort, and individuality for many years.

Materials Description

This piece brings together the mirror like brilliance of high polished stainless steel with the soft, tactile richness of velvet, creating a striking balance between precision and comfort.

High polished stainless steel is valued for its exceptional clarity and reflective surface. Its smooth, mirror like finish captures and reflects light, giving the material a crisp, architectural presence. Strong, durable, and resistant to corrosion, stainless steel offers both visual sharpness and long lasting performance, making it well suited for contemporary furniture where clean lines and refined surfaces are essential.

Paired with the steel is velvet upholstery, crafted from 100% wool. The dense pile creates a smooth, velvety surface that subtly shifts with the light, giving the fabric depth and movement. Soft to the touch yet highly durable, the material combines comfort with strength, making it suitable for furniture in private homes as well as high use environments such as hotels, lounges, and public spaces.

Together, high polished stainless steel and velvet create a compelling contrast between cool brilliance and soft texture. The clarity of the metal meets the warmth of the fabric, resulting in a refined composition that feels both modern and inviting.
